Expectations

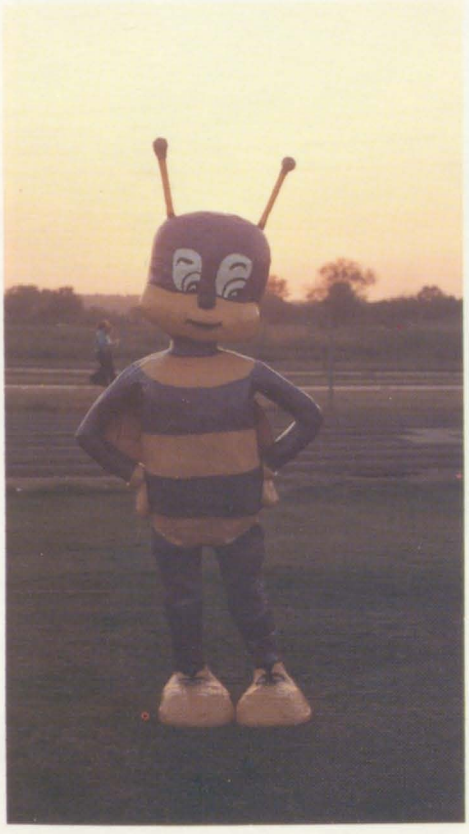
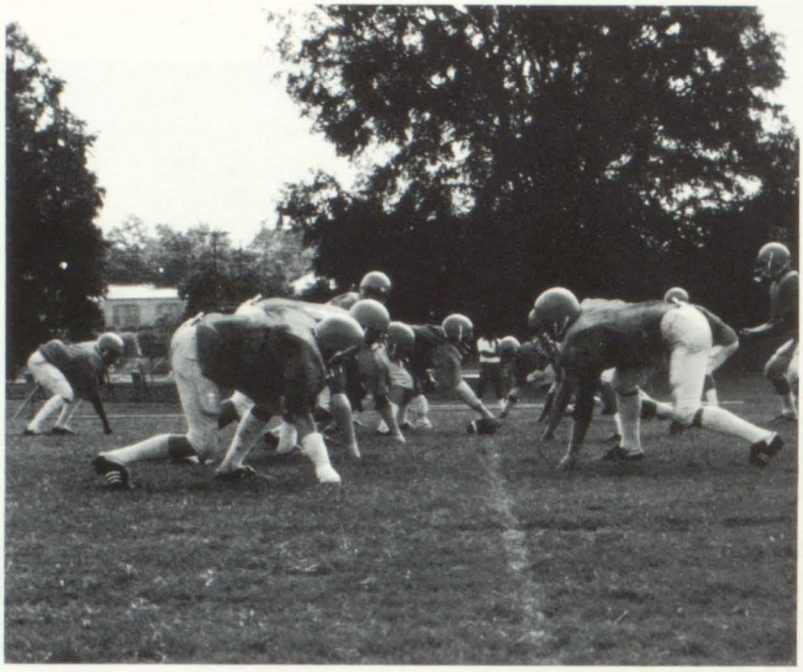
From the moment the doors opened on Freshman-Sophomore Orientation Day to the final bell on that beautiful day in May, all the citizens of the City of Byrd were filled with expectations. Bewildered freshmen anxiously anticipated their first year at Byrd, while sophomores, juniors, and seniors looked forward to more memory-making times in the months ahead of them. Jacket hope was always high and was displayed in many ways: waiting to see if the Jackets would score that winning touchdown, crossing fingers as election results were announced, or hoping for a passing grade on that American History final exam. No matter what kind of situation the students of Byrd encountered, they always managed to accept the outcome, whether they expected it or not, with a smile.

Byrd provided a wide variety of opportunities for involvement. Any student could choose from among the many organizations for the special ones which best suited his preference. Spirit groups attracted a large number of members, as did the various athletic teams. Byrd offered almost every extra-curricular activity a student could hope to find. Byrdites not only participated outside of class, but also busied themselves with in-the-classroom projects. Whether cheering with friends at a pep rally or spending the afternoon working on a group panel, the citizens of the City of Byrd enthusiastically supported their Alma Mater.

Participation



Opposite Page: Top: The Byrd Band from Jacketland spent long hours during the summer practicing new formations. Bottom: Tammy Holtby enjoyed spending time talking with friends. Top Left: Students in Miss Barbara Whitehead's fourth hour American History class presented a scene from "The Crucible" for their witchcraft panel. Top Right: Members of the Pep Squad Drum Corps expressed their individuality through their drums. Bottom Left: At every football game, the presence of Jack the Jacket promoted spirit among the athletes and fans. Bottom Right: Loyal Byrd fans turned out at the Jamboree to support the Jackets.



Dedication

Top Left: Hoping for a successful season, the Varsity football team devoted many hours to practice. Top Right: Pep Squad members spent many summer afternoons painting banners in support of the Jacket football team. Bottom Right: PTA mothers sold cokes after school to raise funds for the school. Opposite Page: Top: The Pep Squad patiently waited in the gym before marching into the auditorium on Orientation Day. Bottom Left: Laurie Rodwell and Margaret Clawson carefully checked GUSHER pages before sending them to the publishing company. Bottom Right: The Dance Line practiced with the Pep Squad in preparation for the halftime Homecoming ceremony.

This past year the City of Byrd was endowed with a great many hardworking students. Each person at Byrd strove to do his best throughout the year to attain his goals. The newly-formed Dance Line spent countless hours perfecting performances, while the cheerleaders and Pep Squad painted banners and learned new cheers to promote school spirit. The football team practiced during the spring and summer to prepare for the fall football season. The Boogie Band from Jacketland spent long hours in the hot summer sun to achieve its high standard of excellence. Other organizations, faculty, and students devoted unlimited amounts of their time to prepare Byrd for the school year ahead. The dedication of the students and faculty made the year the success it was.

The competitive spirit of each student at Byrd was displayed throughout the year in different activities. Because of this traditional spirit, athletes, debaters, and all other citizens of Byrd performed to the best of their ability in every venture they undertook. Competition was evident in all facets of the City of Byrd. At assemblies, each class strove to prove that it had the most spirit. In class, students tried to achieve the highest grade possible in order to set the curve for the entire class. Rivalry also existed among Byrd and other schools. The Jacket academic and athletic teams excelled in their respective areas. Their success was the result of seemingly endless amounts of preparation and practice.

Competition

Top Left: After Student Council issued lockers, John Walker expressed his frustration when one of the combinations did not work. Top Right: Members of the football team anxiously awaited the outcome of a decisive play in the game. Bottom Left: During summer practice, the prospect of attempting a difficult cheerleading jump overwhelmed Alicia Castle. Bottom Right: Heather Tatom discussed yearbook ad sizes with a customer in hopes of making a sale. Opposite Page: Top: Elizabeth West picked up her GUSHER candy which had spilled on her way to class. Bottom Left: Mrs. Phalamae Gray and Mrs. Juanita Nissen discussed one of the many problems which arose during the course of a regular school day. Bottom Right: Ashton Naylor and James Bowen were dismayed when an issue of the High Life returned with some captions switched.

Despite the highlights of the year, there were still times when students were plagued with disappointments and frustrations: times when the cheerleaders could not perfect that stunt or the basketball team did not make those extra winning points; Monday mornings when every single book fell out of the locker just as the tardy bell rang or Thursday nights when there was a game scheduled along with three tests the next day. Whether the Jackets faced too much homework with too little time, or just the plain everyday humdrums, they were never kept down for long. The letdowns were experienced by everyone at one time or another, but the true quality of the citizens of Byrd High School always shone through.

During the summer and the academic school year, a number of Byrdites distinguished themselves in the many activities they undertook. The hours that were poured into each of these activities could be appreciated only by those Jackets who devoted their time to bringing recognition to Byrd. Debaters spent numerous hours researching cases, while GUSHER and High Life staff members worked until the last minute to meet deadlines. Students who excelled in academics brought fame to Byrd as they competed in festivals and rallies. Though only a small number of the citizens of Byrd were formally recognized for their accomplishments, the whole Jacket student body deserved to be commended for working hard each day to maintain the excellent quality of life at C. E. Byrd High School.

Recognition

Opposite Page: Top: During the football season, Byrd's new Dance Line performed for enthusiastic crowds. Bottom Left: Every student at Byrd deserved to be recognized as a vital part of the Jacket student body. Bottom Right: CloLeeta Simpson, Keith Woodley, and Tommy Kruse often won debate trophies at tournaments throughout the year. Top: Escorted by her father, Levin Sewell was presented as a member of the Homecoming Court during the halftime ceremony. Bottom Left: Philip Galbraith, Peter Rigby, Glenda Holt, John Demopulos, and Roosevelt Houston were five of the eleven students who were selected to attend Louisiana Pelican State for a week during August. Bottom Right: Jo Manry welcomed students to the City of Byrd on Orientation Day.

Mr. and Miss Gusher

Carl Tom Flowers

In recognition of one senior boy and one senior girl who have exhibited outstanding qualities, the GUSHER Staff each year honors two individuals with the titles of Mr. and Miss GUSHER. These students, who are chosen by the staff after careful consideration, must have maintained high standards in the areas of character, academics, and leadership while attending Byrd for at least three years. Senior Favorites or GUSHER Staff members are not eligible to receive this honor. It is with much pride that the 1980 GUSHER Staff presents Mr. and Miss GUSHER, Carl Tom Flowers and Lisa Marie Guin.

In her four years at Byrd, Lisa has been a valuable asset. As a sophomore, she became an active "Z" Club member, a HIGH LIFE reporter, treasurer of the Latin Club, and a member of the tennis team. In her junior year, Lisa added membership in Drug Sense, the HIGH LIFE Business Staff, and the Pep Squad to her participation in Latin Club and "Z" Club, which she served as vice-president. She also dedicated time to Key Club as a sweetheart. During the spring of her junior year, she was inducted into National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll, and she was chosen as an alternate to Louisiana Girls' State. As a senior, Lisa served "Z" Club as secretary and continued to participate on the HIGH LIFE Ad Staff, in Latin Club, and as a Key Club Sweetheart.

Lisa Marie Guin

Tom has dedicated many hours of service to Byrd in his three years as a Jacket. During his sophomore and junior years, Tom played in the C. E. Byrd High School Orchestra. His musical talents were further exhibited in his participation in the Little Country Band. Tom, and the other members of the band, provided entertainment on Go West Day for three years by playing in the courtyard. The Little Country Band also performed in the Byrd Talent Show when Tom was a sophomore and a junior. In his senior year, Tom became involved with Key Club and was elected to be the senior board member. He also added membership in Mu Alpha Theta and the tennis team to his other activities.

After the cities were established, they were combined to make parishes from which officials were chosen, who then began work on a parish project. Finally, the entire population of Girls' and Boys' State combined and state officials were chosen, climaxing an entire week of work. The Student Council performed a skit which introduced to the new students the organizations at Byrd. The Dance Line participated in Orientation Day by performing a routine which they had learned over the summer. Each student received his schedule for the upcoming year, stayed in class for twenty minutes, and became acquainted with the teacher.

The cheerleaders danced to the boogie beat of the band from Jacketland.

On Orientation Day, Dr. B. L. Shaw welcomed all the students to the City of Byrd.

The Byrd High Steppers performed during the Orientation Day assembly.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL Informed Parents

Mrs. Hattie Bonner discussed daily classroom activities with students' parents.

To get the parents familiarized with the teachers, Byrd held its annual Back-to-School Night. Mrs. Ruth Folsom spoke to the parents about getting involved in parent-teacher activities. Dr. Shaw talked about the everyday life of a student at Byrd. The parents visited the classrooms and spoke with the teachers about the classes and the activities that would be accomplished during the year. In the front hall before the meeting, the parents were served refreshments and joined the P.T.A. for the 1979-80 school year.

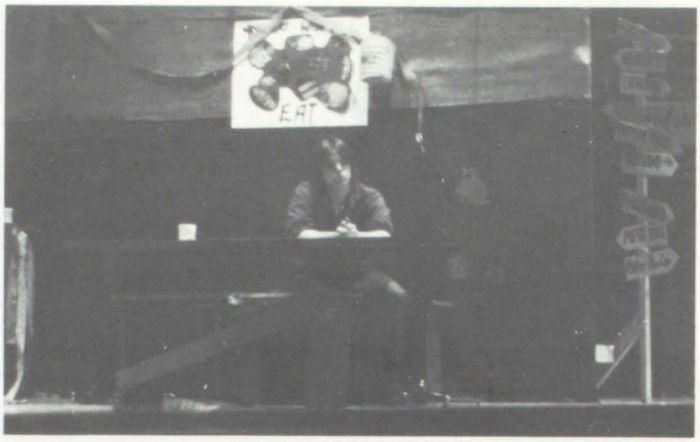
M*A*S*H Was

The Drama Club's Courtyard Players produced the comedy hit M*A*S*H in November. Ms. Adonna Hopkins directed the almost one hundred cast and crew members.

The show was run by these hard-working Assistant Directors, Theresa Manry and Tracy Parker.

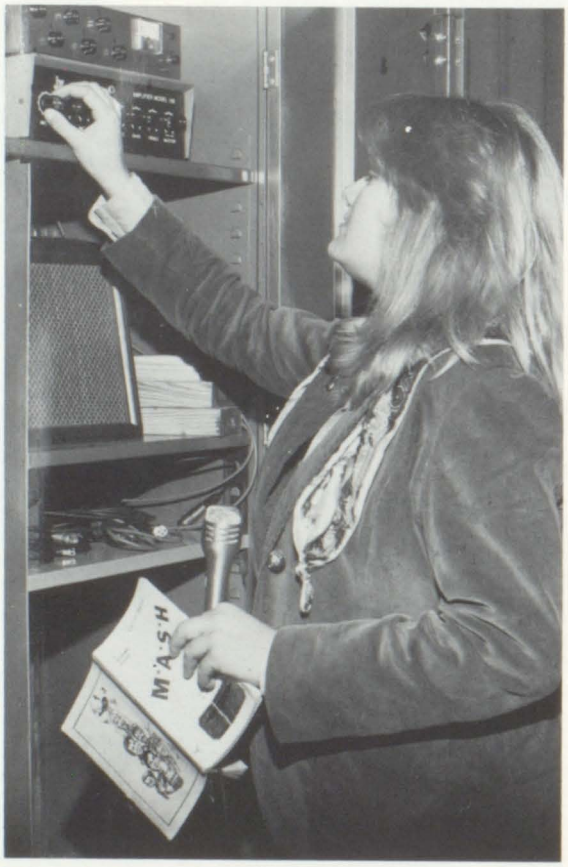
Who will ever forget Michael Politz as that wise-cracking Hawkeye, or the Bonwit sisters (the worst tap dancing act the USO ever sent over)!

It was curtains up and a standing ovation for a great evening of fun and laughter.



Captain Walter Waldowski was played by Pat Burton.

The cast played their parts professionally.



Donna Keith worked extremely hard to get the exact sound effects necessary.

Michael Elford, as General Hammond, conversed over the telephone.

The main duties of the committee included supervising elections of students for class officers, Homecoming Court, Basketball Court, and Junior Prom Court. It counted votes and reported the results to the students. The Advisory Committee contributed to the success of the school year and enabled elections to run more smoothly.

The main goal of the club is to teach and to learn sign language. In December the club decorated the bulletin board in the front hall in sign language which represented Christmas symbols. Members also performed at the school Christmas assembly in which the audience participated with members who signed and sang "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas." Other club activities included participation in a workshop presented by the National Theater of the Deaf in March. Members also strived to provide students at Byrd with helpful information during Deaf Awareness Week in April. The sponsors of the Talking Hands Club were Mrs. Sherri Baker and Mrs. Janna Bearden.

NFL Attended Many

The 1979-80 Byrd Debate Team was the largest and most experienced team at Byrd since 1960. The squad was composed of twenty-two debaters, making it the largest squad in Louisiana. The Byrd debaters have developed a nationwide reputation over the last four years under the direction of Debate Coach Don Belanger. Unlike most other Louisiana teams, the Byrd team participated in predominantly non-Louisiana tournaments. This year they traveled to twenty-two tournaments in eight states: Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Georgia, Alabama, Illinois, Mississippi, and Kentucky.

Byrd's debating style emphasizes knowledge, evidence, and strategy of issues rather than speaking fluency. This style is largely responsible for the 50-80 trophies won each year for the last four years.

FOOTBALL

Ending the season with a 4-6 record, the 1979-80 Yellow Jackets displayed true sportsmanship throughout the year. The team practiced hard during the summer to prepare for the games ahead of them. Winning only one district game, the Jackets experienced a disappointing season. Victories over Huntington and Woodlawn would have assured the team a spot in the playoffs; the Jackets, however, suffered a defeat in both games. The 79-80 football season did enable the team to gain valuable experience. The victories and defeats of the year will always be remembered by those who participated in them.

The Jackets produced another scoring drive with 8:39 left in the game climaxed by a pass from Liffort Hobley to Roderick Randall, bringing the score to 12-20. Early in the next quarter an alert Jacket defense recovered control of a Huntington fumble on the 33 yard line, allowing Warren Travers to score seconds later for a Yellow Jacket 6-3 lead. Before the half ended though, the uncontrollable Raider offense had tacked fourteen more points to the score, giving them an eleven-point advantage. The second half opened with a 70-yard Jacket touchdown drive, consuming 10 plays and bringing the Jackets within a touchdown of a district victory. Late in the last quarter, quarterback Liffort Hobley piloted the Jackets deep into Raider territory, with completions to Randall Roderick. Only thirteen yards separated the Jackets from a victory as time ran out, leaving Byrd with a 1-3 district record.

BASEBALL

The 1978-79 baseball season proved to be a rebuilding year for the young Yellow Jacket team, which accumulated an overall 3-12 season record. The Yellow Jackets began the season with two strong wins over the Jesuit Flyers and, as the pre-district play progressed, the Jacket squad developed both hitting and fielding skills. As the district games approached, the Jackets once again posed a threat to the district champion Woodlawn Knights. Once into the district season the Yellow Jackets slipped past the Southwood Cowboys by a 7-6 score, but were knocked out of post-season play with a 1-4 record. Retrospectively, the Jacket overall record was not significant, but the valuable experience and closeness that the Jacket baseball team retained proved to be the prominent achievement of the season.

BYRD 7 Southwood 6

The Yellow Jackets had little, if no trouble defeating the Southwood Cowboys Friday night at Betty Virginia Park, giving Byrd its only district win of the season. The Cowboys started the game by scoring four runs in the first inning and two more runs in the following inning, thus leaving the Jackets behind by a disappointing 6-0 margin. Byrd came back by scoring two runs in each inning until the final period of play when outfielder Greg Gras wrapped it all up with a grand-slam which knocked in Jimmy Oliver, Bill Thompson, and Jimbo Tieson. The game ended with a score of 7-6, a well-earned victory for the Jacket Diamondmen.

BYRD 4 B.T.W. 9

Probably the most disappointing loss of the season occurred Thursday night at Betty Virginia Park as errors plagued the Jackets in the final innings of play when the B.T.W. Lions scored six runs to win the game. The Yellow Jackets, led by their outstanding pitcher, Jeff Phillips, thought that they had the game won when they led the Lions by a score of 4-3. The Jackets had no trouble getting their runners on base; the only problem was getting them home. The only players to score were Doug Longino, Dan Albright, Jeff Phillips, and Ashton Naylor. The final score was 4-9, a disturbing loss for the Jackets.

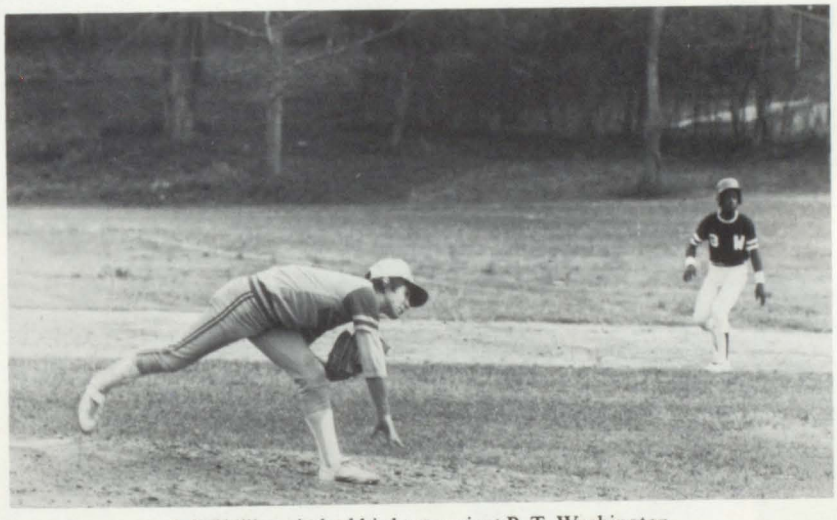
The Jackets entered their third game of the season with a record of 1-1. The Jacket Diamondmen showed great skill and timing in defeating the Flyers both times they played during the 1979 season. Bill Thompson showed his pitching ability by holding Jesuit to only two runs against the Jackets. Dan Albright led the team in scoring by knocking in three runs with two singles and one R.B.I. Liffort Hobley finished the last two innings by pitching a no-hitter, leaving the final score 5-2.



Jeff Phillips pitched his best against B. T. Washington.

BYRD 1 Woodlawn 10

The Yellow Jackets were overcome by the 1-AAAA district champion Woodlawn Knights in a desperate 1-10 district loss. The Jacket pitching attack, led by Bill Thompson, was hard-pressed against the confident Woodlawn batting lineup. The Knights accumulated ten runs throughout the first innings of the game, but were unable to score during the rest of the game. Byrd's only score came in the final inning of play when Doug Longino knocked Bill Thompson in from third base. This game finished the season for the Jackets with the final score of 10-1, a crushing defeat for the young Jackets.

Greg Gras dove for the ball under the watchful eyes of his teammates.

Members of this class also represented Byrd in competing for achievement scholarships which were awarded on the basis of character, academics, and talent. The senior class officers were responsible for leading senior class meetings and for counting the ballots after seniors voted on flower, project, song, motto, and robe color. Were Treasured by SENIORS

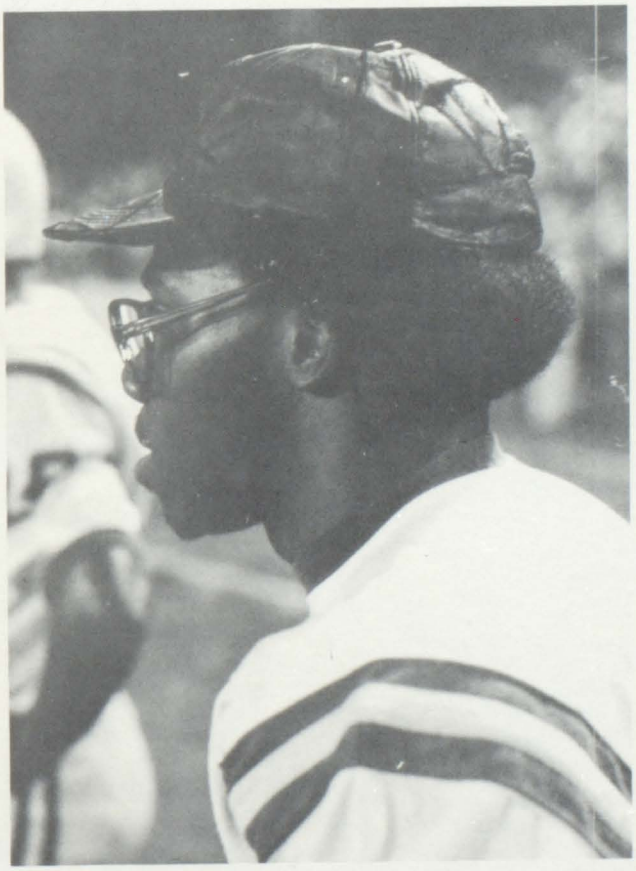
Alicia Castle displayed her excitement when the Jackets scored a touchdown.

Lisa Guin and Levin Sewell called to confirm the publication date of the next issue of the HIGH LIFE.

An added attraction on Go West Day was the country band which played in the courtyard.



Although injured early in the season, Jerome Scroggins faithfully attended each football game.

JUNIORS Anticipated

The 1979-80 junior class officers were: Wendy Dehan, vice-president; Carey Winder, sergeant-at-arms; Cathey Graham, parliamentarian; Paige Hathaway, treasurer; Ashton Naylor, president; Kathy Fain, secretary.

Kathy Mitchell took notes while Miss Barbara Whitehead gave a lecture on the French Revolution.

Brenda Ericson, Kim Wilcox, Carl Heidman, and Janet Evers socialized in the cafeteria.

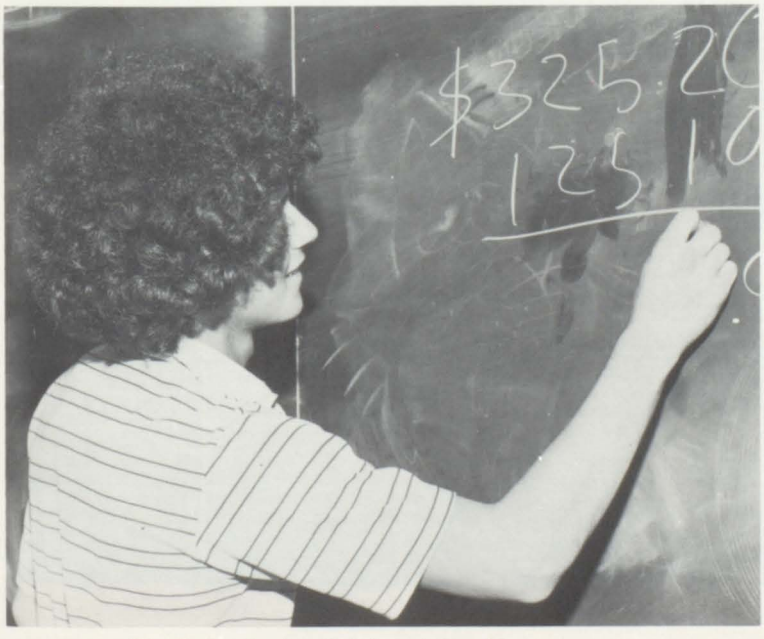
a Successful Prom

Jeff Cherry waited for an appointment to see Mrs. Phalamae Gray.

The juniors showed their school spirit by participating in varsity athletics, such as football, basketball, and baseball. A select few were inducted into the honorary clubs of Quill and Scroll and National Honor Society.

The junior officers devoted much time to make the Junior Prom a success. To raise money they sold candy and held several dances. The spirit of this class was thoroughly expressed by the success of the prom.

The juniors preparing for college took the PSAT-NMSQT test in the fall and in the spring took the ACT test. The juniors selected their senior rings in September and eagerly awaited their arrival in December. Throughout the year the juniors continued to display true Jacket spirit.



Tim Barber displayed his knowledge of business math.

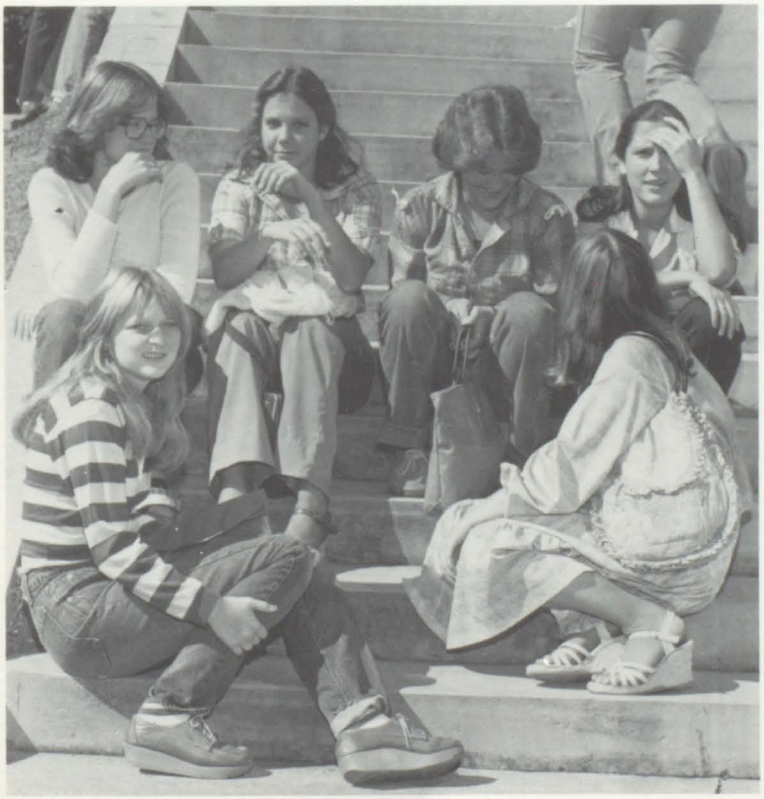
During the 1979-1980 school year, the sophomores showed much enthusiasm in all school related activities. Some sophomores were new to Byrd, but they soon learned the daily routines of their fellow classmates. They met new friends and reunited with their old ones. Many of the sophomores joined clubs and extracurricular activities. During pep rallies the sophomores showed their spirit. They proved to be valuable in participation at Byrd.



Stephanie Tatom, Beth Ann Arnold, Chris Holland, Susie Deason, Cathy Callen and Treluis Zenter shared secrets during lunch.

Janice Hornbeck, Erika Barber, Charmaine Burton, and Janet Hornbeck waited for a ride after a play rehearsal.

This year it is to memories: listening to albums in your room, talking in McDonalds, running with Spirit, and driving from the Grand Canyon to Las Cruces. The best one has to be the weekend in "dynamic" Denton when we went to E. J.'s concert. Thanks for being a part of all of them. David Knight searched through his Biology book for the correct answers to his study sheet.

This year we are completing 15 years of operation in Shreveport. During that time we've become the "Telephone Capital of the World," manufactured almost 60 million telephones and experienced a growth in employment to nearly 7,500.

These accomplishments are the results of dedicated efforts by the outstanding group of people who make up our work force. Many are graduates of C. E. Byrd High School. We are proud of them and the important role they have in helping us meet the communications needs of the Bell System.

NDR —

In behalf of your countless hours of ghost work and devoted service to the 1980 GUSHER, we wish to express our heart-felt appreciation.

We love you!

H. Veillon,

It's been real! All those late nights, early Saturday mornings, Dr. Peppers, and doughnuts finally added up to equal the 1980 GUSHER.

Thanks . . . We love ya!

The 1980 GUSHER Staff

'The time has come,' the Walrus said,
'To talk of many things;
Of shoes - and ships - and sealing wax -
Of cabbages - and - kings -
And why the sea is boiling hot -
And whether pigs have wings.'

'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe:
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgrabe.

Rainbows, dragons, unicorns, Ziggy, Dr. Peppers and french fries, create - a -. . ., forever in blue jeans and bare feet, fits of hysteria, half-picas, pina coladas and the American Dream, kiwi fruits, Shakespeare, Swenson's and Mr. Gattis, too sick to go to class but not sick enough to stay out of the building, Rocky Horror, frozen pizza and barking dogs, Heritage House and "misplaced" pictures, Ma Bell, Mr. Dornier, Mrs. Baker, Miss Sanders, Miss Whitehead, Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. Bowdon, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Howard . . . STOP! here comes anxiety . . .

¡Vamonos chiquita!
Danke du bist nett,
"THE" GUSHER Staff:
MMC and LSR

Ph. G. —

We would just like to say thanks for all the support you've given us this year . . . not to mention all those cookies!

With all our love,
The 1980 GUSHER Staff

Billy and Teresa,

Thanks for giving us hope and helping us cope and giving up so much of your spare time to help us. Through all those days of cheeseburgers, icees, and 14 hour workdays, you were there.

With all our love, appreciation,
and gratitude,
Laur and Marg

To you, the 1980 GUSHER —

Many have asked us, "Is it worth it?" or "Will GUSHER get you through college?" We have only to say that through all the sweat, tears, and time that have gone into you, we have been made the richest people in the world. You're far from being "just a little book," and we love you.

Yours, forever and always.

Hey Cuz,

Well, it's finally over and you're still here . . . aren't you? Page fifty-four is with love from us to you. Long live the Beatles, and Rocky Horror, and the Absolute Truth. With all our love,

Laur and Maggie

Oh, by the way,
when you least expect,
EXPECT!

Billy Boston spent much of his spare time working on GUSHER pages.

Index to Students

Members of the track team practiced every day to maintain their good condition.

Don't be dismayed at good-byes.
A farewell is necessary before you can meet again.

And meeting
again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends.

—Richard Bach, Illusions

Death is not the enemy of life, but its friend, for it is the knowledge that our years are limited which makes them so precious. It is the truth that time is but lent to us which makes us, at our best, look upon our years as a trust handed into our temporary keeping.
